40 Foster Homes Are Sought Here

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A foster family home is a place for youngsters to thrive, grow, develop and expand their minds and future opportunities. It is a place in which often many children with different backgrounds belong to one family.

It also is an essential asset to a good child welfare program, as employees of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services can attest. The effects of a shortage of foster homes, a situation rapidly approaching in this area, are most noticeable, according to Joel R. Strayer, supervisor of the Licensing-Resource Unit in the Edwardsville District Office of Children and Family Services.

At present, there are more than 240 children in foster care in Madison and Bond counties. Each month, an additional 10 to 15 children need a foster family home.

To help care for these children the state agency actively is seeking to license area homes in which foster children may be placed, Strayer said this week.

In the Quad-City area alone, a total of 40 foster home vacancies is needed.

"We have had many good foster homes in this area throughout the years, but we urgently need more," a staff worker said. The agency prefers to keep children in their home community and, if possible, the same school or educational district, thereby providing the youngster a better chance to adjust to foster home care, he explained. Short-term placements range from three to six months, although the majority of children are located in foster homes for a period of one-and-a-half to two years. A child conceivably may remain in foster home care up to age 18 years, the staff worker said.

Strayer said he hopes the community will respond to this pressing need and that many couples will contact the agency for information on how to become foster parents. Information may be obtained by writing or calling the district office of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, 116 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville, 1-636-8820.

"Foster parents won't get rich from this," foster care pay is minimal, Strayer said. "It is signed basically to cover the costs of the child's board and room."

"However, the state does

Scouters Honored

Gillie and Henry Hellrich, both of Granite City, and Donald Gaedinger of Highland were awarded the coveted Silver Beaver and Mrs. Leo Manogian of Granite City received the Silver Fawn at the 23rd annual scouters' appreciation dinner held in the Trinity Lutheran School, Edwardsville, Thursday night by the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Silver Beaver is the highest award a local council may bestow on an active scout leader; the newer Silver Fawn is the equivalent award presented to women.

Council President Gillie, manager of the W. T. Grant Co. in Granite City, served as master-of-ceremonies at the gathering of 400.

Guest speaker was Elder

Robert L. Simpson, assistant to the Council of Twelve of the Mormon Church, who cited scouting's role in achieving a goal of "informed, physically fit, freedom-loving, God-fearing, well-led youth."

Special plaques were presented to Press-Record Editor William F. Winter and W. F. "Mike" Strange, photo editor, for their service to the Cahokia Mound Council as chairman and member respectively of the public relations committee. Strange also is camping chairman. ## $123 Million Spent By GC Steel in Area

National Steel Corp. through its Granite City Steel Co. subsidiary spent approximately $123,000,000 in this bi-state region during 1972, according to a year-end summary of operations.

The summary was released jointly by Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board of Granite City Steel, and H. M. Love, president.

Goods and services purchased from more than 1,000 suppliers in Granite City and throughout the metropolitan area totaled a record $53,000,000 last year.

In addition, wages, salaries and employee benefits for Granite City's 4,500 employees brought the 1972 payroll to approximately $78,000,000, higher than in any past year.

The report on the dollar impact of Granite City Steel's payroll and purchases in the area follows the announcement from National Steel's Pittsburgh headquarters earlier this week that National's 1972 earnings per share of $3.81 showed a 55% increase over the corporation's 1971 per share earnings of $2.46.

Contributing to National's improvement in 1972, according to President George A. Stinson, "was our ability to integrate Granite City Steel effectively into National's overall steel-making complex."

Since Granite City was acquired in mid-August, 1971, we have expanded its production and shipments significantly."

Selling new all-4400 re-ords in 1972, Granite City Steel produced 1,401,000 tons of blast furnace pig iron, an increase over 1971 of 31.8%; 1,883,000 tons of steel, an increase over 1971 of 27.3%; and 1,323,000 tons of hot rolled plate and sheet, an increase over 1971 of 21.4%.

The company shipped 1,469,000 tons of final rolled steel products, an increase of 23.8% over 1971.

Granite City Steel, the largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, buys more than 30,000 different items a year, some in very large quantities and most from suppliers in or near this area.

The company's big plant in Granite City consumes about

Debate Before Audience Urged

A public debate before a Granite City audience was urged today by Alderman Paul Schuler, who is running for mayor against incumbent Mayor Donald Parthey.

"If the Chamber of Commerce or the Trades and Labor Council or similar groups could arrange for a meeting at Central Junior High School or Granite City High School, I feel the issues could be discussed in detail," Schuler commented.

"I have in mind something like the previous forums for candidates for public office, with an impartial moderator of good reputation presiding," Schuler noted.

He said he has agreed to a radio discussion March 24 but feels it will be insufficient to review the campaign issues due to its format.

"I'll participate in any and all debates available, but I want to point out that time is passing rapidly, the city election is April 3, and no public meetings have yet been arranged," Schuler noted.

Richard Allen, campaign manager for Mayor Parthey, said the two aspirants are to speak at noon Saturday, March 24 in the office of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

It is proposed to air the discussion over Station Wgno and continue it for an hour or two hours, depending on the amount of interest shown by the public, Allen said.

The plan calls for statements by Parthey and Schuler, followed by questions from the public.

Court Halts Drive; Hearing Wednesday

Solicitors' Share --15, 7 or 5%

How much were the drive solicitors hired by Earle Trigg earning from the ticket sales and financial contributions they obtained through telephone calls here?

Trigg told the Press-Record in late January that the solicitors were being paid 15%.

An affidavit submitted to the Circuit Court on Friday showed Trigg had told Granite City Police Chief Ronald V. Veizer that Trigg paid his solicitors 7%.

One of the solicitors, Donna Snyder, 2764 Nameless Drive, told the police she was receiving 5% of the funds she obtained, the affidavit showed.

Trigg was quoted as saying he opened a joint checking account in his name and the name of Ray Harlan, father of a minor child purportedly to be aided by the drive.

The drive promoter said he was the agent for State Fair Productions, Inc., of Nashville, Tenn.

Trigg told police the proceeds after expenses were to go 50% for the boy and 50% to State Fair Productions. He alleged that he had a signed contract with Ray Harlan and a contract with a veterans' post.

The affidavit related that the promoter said he checked with the city clerk and was told no registration was necessary.

Upon request by the police chief that solicitors in Granite City register with his office, Donna Snyder registered and William Dixon, 2145 North St., registered.

Solicitation Is Not Authorized by Legion

The American Legion, Tri-City Post 113, located at 1825 State St., Granite City, today gave notice to the public that "solicitations for tickets to the Grand Ole Opry show on March 4, 1973 in the name of the American Legion are not authorized by the Legion." The statement was issued by Post 113 executive committee.

Commander William A. Barks said, "The only connection which the Legion has with the benefit program scheduled by Mr. Ray Harlan and State Fair Productions, Inc., of Nashville, Tenn., is to rent the Legion's premises to the promoter and the promoter for the event."

"None of the funds goes to the Legion, or are contributed by the Legion, except a minimal rental charge," the commander said.

Attorney General Initiates Action

After a request by Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott, Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman at 1:45 p.m. Friday issued an order that a special fund drive here must halt for ten days. A hearing was set for 9 a.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville to consider whether the temporary restraining order should be extended.

The judge ruled that Earle Trigg and his agents, servants and employees — and all other persons in active concert or participation with him, who receive actual notice of the order by personal service or otherwise — are restrained from soliciting funds.

"They are not to solicit funds 'for any alleged charity or purported charitable organizations' by any means whatsoever" for the period through Feb. 18.

The order will expire on that date "unless within that time, for good cause shown, it is extended for a like period, or unless a defendant against whom this order is directed consents that as to that defendant this order may be extended for a longer period."

The order was issued after a request by two special assistant attorneys general, Leo H. Konzen of Granite City and John J. Lowrey of Chicago.

Scott became aware of the fund drive Wednesday and had Lowrey fly here Thursday to determine whether court action should be sought.

The attorney general served as plaintiff for "the people of the state of Illinois."

Chief Judge Schuman based

Insurance Paid Most Of Costs

A Granite City family which was made the subject of a fund drive received considerable aid from insurance through the family head's place of work, Granite City Steel Co.

The Press-Record learned Friday that the insurance paid $4,063 of a reported $4,060 of medical-surgical-hospital costs associated with treatment of a boy born without an ear.

The insurance will continue to provide for further care of this type, it was asserted. The payments aggregating $4,063 included $2,567 during 1972 alone.

It was learned that records show the family being required to pay $17.10. A spokesman acknowledged that there may have been additional costs to the family beyond the $17, but he added that the insurance coverage is such that the figure could not be large.

A drive was launched here in January to aid the family, with a staff of fund solicitors making telephone calls to Quad-Cityans and arranging for appointments at which to pick up money for show tickets.

Jail Escapee Caught As Police Converge

One of 12 prisoners who escaped from the St. Louis City Jail on Feb. 3, was taken into custody at 1:45 p.m. Sunday at 2156S Washington Ave. and was returned to St. Louis last night.

He is Roger Williams, 33, who was captured when Granite City police, St. Louis city detectives and Illinois State Police converged on the building.

Contracts Let for Two SIUE Buildings

The Illinois Capital Development Board has awarded general construction contracts for two Southern Illinois University classroom buildings to J. J. Altman Construction Co. of East St. Louis.

The general contracts total $7,933,710.

John Moore, executive director of the CDB, said Friday a letter authorizing the Altman firm to proceed with the projects has been mailed to the firm.

Specialty contracts are expected to be awarded in the near future.

The new buildings will be erected north of the existing Peck classroom building in the academic core area.

53-YEAR SCOUTERS HONORED. Those with the longest service in Boy Scouting were among those cited at the annual appreciation dinner Thursday night. Standing, left to right, are Jack Vance, council commissioner, Mrs. Beulah Williams of Madison, who has been active in the Cub Scouting program for 22 years, Arthur Roseman, Uniwalk (Quad-City) district member-at-large, and Dr.

George T. Wilkins Sr., a member of the council advisory board, both active for 53 years, and G. Rollin Henn, past president of the council and a scout leader for over 50 years himself, congratulating the Rev. and Mrs. Frank B. Christ of Madison and Elder Robert L. Simpson, the guest speaker.

Couple Weds In Savannah

Miss Valerie Rene McCleery and David Richard Byrne were united in marriage Jan. 12 at the Faith Lutheran Church in Savannah, Ga.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Robert L. Walker of Savannah, formerly of Granite City. Mr. Byrne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Byrne, reside at 3213 Aubrey Ave.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Robert L. Walker, the bride chose a floor-length gown of moire taffeta designed with a chapel train.

A cameo brooch accented the Victorian neckline and the long fitted sleeves were enhanced with pleated taffeta cuffs. Silk flowers and petals fashioned into a circlet, secured her elbow-length veil, and the bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white carnations and pink roses.

Mrs. Judy Lowe of Savannah was matron of honor. Radford Lowe served as best man. A dinner was given at the Downtowner Inn after the service.

IT'S THE REAL THING. Dental students at the Alton campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are able to practice their professions on real teeth, thanks to the cooperation of area dentists who contribute molars, bicuspids and other teeth extracted from patients. At left, Joseph Lopez, dental technician at the Alton campus, sorts the teeth, and in the center photo Craig Stater, chief dental technician, fits the tooth into life-like plastic jaws. At right, Mark Friederich of Granite City practices on the teeth which are mounted in a stainless steel head manikin.

Colleges Plan Weekend Student Discussions

Eight private colleges and universities in metropolitan St. Louis, in cooperation with three shopping centers, will sponsor "Private College Weekend," an informational program for local high school students beginning Friday.

Representatives of the admissions offices of the eight institutions will talk with prospective students and distribute literature at booths to be set up on the malls of the South County and West County shopping centers and in the auditorium of Northland Shopping Center.

The institutions are: Fontbonne College, the Lindenwood College, Maryville College, Missouri Baptist College, Notre Dame College, Webster College, and St. Louis University, including Parks College of Aeronautical Technology.

The dates and times are: Friday, Feb. 16, 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Feb. 17, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Monday, Feb. 18, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. High school students may visit the booths at any time during these periods.

The program was planned by the admissions directors of the eight schools to emphasize the advantages of private higher education in the St. Louis area. The dates were chosen because Monday, Feb. 18, is a school holiday in honor of Washington's birthday.

Real Teeth Challenge SIUE Dental Students

There's no substitute for the real thing, the faculty of the School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville believes. Dental students at the Alton Campus are learning their profession using real teeth which have been extracted by area dentists.

Dr. James D. Harrison, associate dean, says the teeth given to the school are those which dentists have found necessary to remove from their patients. "We sort the teeth, using those that fit into a normal jaw formation."

Some of the teeth are already badly decayed and others may have only minor cavities," Harrison explained. The sorted teeth are positioned in wax in a hollow jaw form. The jaw is part of a complete head manikin made of stainless steel. After the teeth are positioned, the wax is melted away and a rubbery substance resembling natural gums is placed around the teeth to the jaw frame.

Craig Stater, chief dental laboratory technician at the School of Dental Medicine, and Joseph Lopez, dental lab technician, have the job of sorting teeth and making the near life-like tooth formations. All assembly work is done on the campus at Alton.

The 24 dental students in the first class admitted to the school each have a head manikin of their own on which to practice.

"Using these manikins and the real teeth makes it possible for the students to study in as near normal professional situation as it is possible for us to provide," Dr. Harrison explained.

Court Drops Burglary Charge; Man in Prison

A charge of burglary against Ralph James Holmes Jr., 52, of St. Louis, has been dismissed by Madison County Circuit Court.

He had been charged with burglary of the Kerr-McGee Service Station, 12th Street and Edwardsville Road, on March 26, 1972. Court officials said he currently is serving a three-year prison sentence on a federal charge.

Also dismissed were charges of unlawful possession of cannabis which had been filed last year against Margaret Sheilagh Papp, Bruce Papp and Scott Jerome Rushing.

Law Provides Options to Mentally Ill Criminals

Copley News Service

A person charged with a crime in Illinois, and then found unfit to stand trial, will no longer automatically find himself committed to a mental hospital under the custody of the mental health department. Instead he may be admitted to a private hospital or even be released on bail on recognizance. If it chooses, the court can make it a requirement of release on bail that the defendant seek and undergo treatment for the mental condition which makes him unfit to stand trial on the criminal charge.

The changes are all part of the new Illinois code of corrections which became effective Jan. 1.

Previously, anyone found incompetent or unfit to face trial, was automatically committed to the mental health department until such time as "reasonable grounds exist to believe that an incompetent is now competent."

Only the testimony of a psychiatrist was allowed in determining if an accused person was competent to stand trial. Now, the defendant's own attorney, his friends and even fellow prisoners who had served time in jail with him can take the stand to testify about his fitness to stand trial. After such a hearing a court may find that the accused is unfit and qualifies for involuntary commitment under the Mental Health Code of 1967. He may then be placed in a department facility or could be placed instead in a private hospital.

In any event, if he is found unfit and in need of mental treatment, he still needn't fear anyone will "throw away the key" after he's locked up. Instead, the new code provides the department must return him to the trial court within 90 days after the original finding. At this time, the court must again examine him to see if he is now competent to stand trial.

Should he still be found unfit, and in need of involuntary hospitalization, he can be returned to the department of mental health but the department must return him to court at least once during each year he remains in department custody. Should he be considered unfit and confined for treatment for a period of time as long as the maximum sentence he could have received for the crime of which he was accused, the new law provides the criminal charges against him must be dismissed.

This would not, however, bring about his immediate release, since he would be hospitalized under the mental health code, rather than under the code of corrections. All persons already in the custody of the Mental Health department as unfit to stand trial, now are entitled to hearings under the new rules. Mrs. Joan Matlaw, chief of legal services for the department, has instructed all department facilities to prepare lists of such persons in their custody, together with the crimes of which they were accused, and the length of time they have been in custody.

Bakalis Again Cuts Operating Budget Costs

For the third consecutive year, Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael J. Bakalis has trimmed his operating funds request to a figure below that of the previous year's appropriation. His budget request for the 1973-74 fiscal year is $11,632,600 — a decrease of $124,000 from last year's appropriation of $11,756,600. Bakalis announced at a press conference.

The budget cuts were effected despite continually rising prices for salaries, supplies and rent, which eat into the government's pocketbook just as inflation continues to erode the consumer's buying power.

Inflation usually adds an average annual cost of between 5% and 7% to most governmental budget. But these inflationary costs, including a 4.5% across-the-board pay hike for OSPI employees last year, have been absorbed within the OSPI budgets under the Bakalis administration.

The 1973-74 budget request, which has been forwarded to the governor for presentation to the General Assembly, has been pared to a level below the 1972 appropriations for the office under Bakalis' predecessor.

In spite of the budget cuts, Bakalis said he is confident his office will continue to operate efficiently and will continue to increase services.

"By streamlining the management function of my office, we have increased our productivity and the quality of services without increasing costs," he commented.

Under the trimmed budget, 84 jobs will be cut from the office. Of these, 40 are supported by state funds. The rest are to be dropped due to reductions in federal aid for certain educational programs. Some of the 84 positions presently are vacant and will not be filled; many of the rest will be phased out by normal attrition.

The state school chief, who has stressed the three E's of Economy, Efficiency and Effectiveness during his two years in office, has urged implementation of sound business and management practices at all levels of government in order to make maximum use of present revenues.

GC Wrestlers Sweep 15th Southwest Conference Crown

The GCHS varsity wrestlers handily wrapped up their 15th consecutive Southwest Conference mat crown Saturday at Edwardsville.

The Warriors collected 106 points while second place Belleville East counted 62 and Cahokia was third with 53. Trailing were Belleville West 49, Edwardsville 22, East St. Louis 14, Alton 3 1/2 and Collinsville 3.

Granite City had six champions while East had three, Cahokia two and West one. The Warriors also had four runners-up, a third place finished and one fourth.

Champions for GCHS were John Niebur (120 pounds), Kerry Johnson (110), Dennis Ragan (126), Ken Nolan (145), Jack Schooley (167) and John Avedisian (185). Runners-up were Pat MacMillan (88), Phil Lapinski (105), Dan Heath (132) and John McMillon (heavyweight). Ragan (138) was the first and Brian Wilson (135) finished third.

Of six returning champions, only three repeated their achievements, all Granite City grapplers. Repeat champions were Johnson, Ragan and Schooley. Unsuccessful in attempts to keep their crowns were Jeff Harris of West, Steve Hagstrom of Edwardsville and Bryan Joel of Alton.

Johnson won his crown by downing East St. Louis 4-1 in the first round, West 10-0 in the second and Cahokia's Art Wiley in the finals by a pin in 3:58.

Ragan repeated by downing East St. Louis in 1:59, Cahokia on a 14-0 decision and dropping Victor Harris, the returning champion, on a 9-1 decision. Schooley won the first round by default as his East opponent was injured during the match. The Warrior was leading 9-0 when the injury occurred. He won the second round over Alton's Joel 10-8 in overtime and won his crown by defeating Edwardsville's Jim Dyer 11-6.

Niebur defeated Edwardsville 9-0, Collinsville 20-3 and East's Tom Dixon 17-10. Nolan downed East St. Louis 8-1, Alton 3-0 and Cahokia's Willie Hinton 8-1. Avedisian was successful in bouts against Collinsville 4-0, Cahokia 10-2 and Bruce Dunning of East 3-4.

Second-place finishers and their scores against each opponent were MacMillan, a bye, downed East St. Louis 6-1, lost to East's Jim Reizer 0-2; Lapinski, pinned Alton 1-59, defeated Edwardsville 2-2, lost 3-4 to Cahokia's undefeated Bob Campbell by a take-down at the final horn; Heath, pinned Cahokia in 5:36, defeated first-seeded Victor Harris of East St. Louis 8-2, lost to East's Bob Baldwin 5-8; and McMillon, pinned Collinsville in 4:16, lost to East's undefeated Kevin Bergman 0-2.

Fetter, who was filling in for the injured Dave Rushing, downed East St. Louis with a pin in 3:46, lost to East's undefeated Mike Reeder by a fall in 1:45 and defeated Collinsville 4-0. Rushing is recovering from a knee injury and may return to action next week.

Wilson drew a bye in the first round, then lost to the eventual champion, Bill See of West, 4-7. In the final round he was defeated by Cahokia 0-8.

The Warriors will compete in the Alton District Tournament Friday and Saturday against host Alton High School, Bethalto Civic Memorial, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Highland, Roxana, Triad and Wood River. The first session will begin at 7 p.m. Friday, the second at 1:30 p.m. Saturday and the finals at about 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Warrior Cagers Split Pair With Two Belleville Teams

The Granite City High School basketball Warriors split two Western Conference games over the weekend. At Belleville West Friday they lost 70-45 while at home Saturday they downed Belleville-East 63-50.

The Warriors are now 4-6 in the conference and 6-12 overall.

When asked to comment on the Belleville-West game Friday Warrior Coach Don Deterding simply said "I don't want to talk about it, we played so badly. It was the worst first half I have seen in my entire coaching career and if I say any more it would not be fit to print."

West's Maroons held quarter leads of 14-8, 34-16, 49-29 and outpointed the Warriors in the fourth period 25-16.

In field goals it was Belleville West 32-17, but GCHS led in charity tosses 11-6.

West's Milton Wiley took scoring honors with 20 points. Warriors scored Friday were Tom Vrenick 15, Mike Martinez 12, Mark Gauert and Brett Chambers 6 and Tom Paterson 4.

son, Greg Gauert, and Dave Schneckle 2.

In December the Warriors beat West 56-51. At home on Saturday things got better as the Warriors dominated East's Lancers 124-37-24, 50-35 at quarter points. In the final period the Lancers outpointed the Warriors 15-13.

The Warriors shot 42% from the floor, sinking 21, 62% from the charity line with 21, and dominated the boards 33-23. They had 20 turnovers to the Lancers' 31.

"It was really a fantastic first quarter. We moved well, handled the ball well and seemed to do things right. The team played a good game all the way through but that first quarter was great," Deterding commented.

Vrenick scored 29 points, the first half and Martinez was first penetrating their defense. It did not look like the same team that played Friday night.

"The players really did a job on 6-4 Dave Haverman who they held down to five points. Pat-son was on him all the time until Tom fouled out in the third quarter after he committed a technical foul."

Vrenick, with 24 points, led the Granite City attack, followed by Martinez 20, Champion 6, Greg Gauert 5, Mark Gauert 4 and Paterson 2.

The Warriors will travel to Collinsville Friday night and then will host Cahokia Saturday night.

Trojans Nearly Do It But Bow to Kahoks By 70-65

The Madison High School basketball Trojans nearly made it a disastrous weekend for the vaunted Kahoks of Collinsville but a bad aim in the final quarter gave Collinsville a 70-65 victory Saturday night on the winners' court.

The Kahoks, who had remained unbeaten until Friday night's overtime loss to East St. Louis, were outshot 28 to 27 from the floor by the MHS cagers, but the Trojans sank only nine of 20 free throws while the winners garnered 16 points the easy way.

In the fourth quarter the Trojans missed on five one-on-one tries in a row. To add to the woes, Charles Lucas, who scored 13 points and was working the boards well, fouled out because he was doing really great off the boards and he had scored 13 points for us.

"We had a devil of a time with Collinsville's Tiemann, who we just could not stop," Tiemann took scoring honors with 27.

Leading the Trojan attack was Anthony "Duck" Matthews with 23. Other Trojans scoring were Jerry Bedford with 21, Lucas 12, and Rudolph Bradley and Kevin Boyd 4.

The Trojans will host Lebanon at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Cougars Gain Revenge, Trip Eastern Michigan By 70-67

Revenge, how sweet it is. Last season, at Ypsilanti, Mich., the high-riding Hurons defeated a club they narrowly defeated the Eastern Michigan University basketball team at Edwardsville, 123-88.

Sunday afternoon at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis the SUE Cougars of Coach Jim Dudley avenged that defeat by knocking off the Hurons 70-67 in the leadoff game in a collegiate basketball double-header. In the finale, St. Louis University clobbered South Florida by 85-67.

The victory ran the Cougars record to 15-7 and kept SUE's hopes alive for a post-season NCAA college division regional tournament bid. The Cougars final 30 minutes. He hit on six of six the final half and kept including Wednesday's home contest with Westminster College, a club they narrowly defeated early in January 69-60 on the road.

In Sunday's victory the Cougar margin of superiority wasn't really told by the close score. In fact, Dudley's Dandies won it despite their top rebounder, Leon Wright, being way below his top form because of an attack of stomachic flu.

It was a duel between the winners' Tony Johnson and Eastern Michigan's sharp-shooting ace, Gary Tyson. It ended in a 21-21 standoff although Tyson gave the SUE rosters some uneasy moments in the final 30 minutes. He hit on six of six the final half and kept the Hurons in the game. Scoring honors for the game went to the Cougars' Terry Carlson who poured through 14 of his game high 23 points in the final half, including seven out of seven free throws in the game.

Devils Now Only Undefeated Quintet

The Venice High School Red Devils are the only cage team in the area holding onto a perfect record as they won a twin bill at home over the weekend and are now 21-0.

On Friday the Devils melted Steeleville 93-38 and Bunker Hill was flattened 83-47 on Saturday.

Collinsville was undefeated until Friday in an overtime loss to East St. Louis.

In Venice Coach Bill Ohlendorf's career this is the seventh time his teams have won more than 20 games in a season.

Venice led Steeleville at the quarters by 23-9, 49-15, 76-24 and outpointed the Warriors 16-14 in the final act. Leading the Devils in scoring was Ron Henry with 26, followed by Cornelius Wiley 21, J. B. Harmon 16, Dan Severs

8, Tony Sitten and Mike Logan for 1.

The Devils made 43 field goals and sank six charity tosses as Steeleville garnered 15 from the floor and eight from the free throw line.

Against Bunker Hill Venice was behind 14-11 at the end of the first quarter but led 36-24 at the half and 54-39 going into the final stanza.

From the floor it was Venice 37-18 while Bunker Hill had the charity edge 11-9 as the Devils committed 15 fouls to the losers 13.

Henry and Mosby shared high point honors with 20. Severs followed with 18, Wiley 16, 14, Sitten 11, Kiehl Gardner 4, Harmon and Logan 2. The Devils will host Valmeyer on Tuesday and Marquette on Friday.

This baby won't keep you up nights.

Alas, not every car is born a Volkswagen.

But of the lucky ones that are, it's hard to find a trouble-maker. Of course, by the time a new Volkswagen comes into the family it's been dotted upon by 1,007 inspectors.

So it's not surprising that the skin is blemish-free. That the steel bottom is sealed tight against annoying moisture.

That what's inside is just as perfect as what's outside. (Many parts are inspected 2 or 3 times.)

And just to give you an extra feeling of security, VWs are covered by an extra year of warranty.*

Not just any warranty.

This one includes four free check-ups by our famous diagnosis system — a system renowned for spotting trouble. Before it's trouble. (A comforting thought.)

But find any and it's under warranty, we'll fix it for free. (Another comforting thought.)

As good as our baby is, however, the day will come when you'll decide to part.

But it's consoling to know that after 3 or 4 years it's been known to bring home more dollars than any other economy car. Pleasant dreams.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

*If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, except normal wear and tear and service items will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. or Canadian Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge. See your dealer for details. *SOURCE: Consumer Volkswagen. Suggested Retail Prices and 1972 Average Used Car Retail Prices quoted in NADA. ## MORE ABOUT Foster Homes pay all the youngster's medical and dental bills, as well as an allowance and any special school expenses," he advised.

The greatest foster care need is homes for teenagers like Brenda, Strayer said. Brenda's mother died when she was a baby, and her father was not able to adequately care and provide for his five children. She and her brothers and sisters have been separated for years.

As Brenda grew older, she grew less secure. She avoided responsibility and began to resent any direction from adults. Her friends were experiencing similar feelings about their parents, but Brenda's fears and uncertainties were more intense than the others.

She spent two years in a children's institution. There she learned to handle her feelings and emotions and can adjust to a foster family situation again, Strayer reported.

Another example cited by the Children and Family Services supervisor, involved a youngster who needed emergency, temporary care.

Peter, age 11, was found by the police at 11:30 at night curled up in the doorway of a deserted shoe repair shop. He had run away from home and was determined not to ask for help from anyone.

But by the time he was picked up, he was tired and cold and hungry. He almost wished he hadn't run away. Peter's mother was frantically looking for the boy, but had not yet admitted to herself that the police needed to be involved.

Children such as Peter would be placed in an emergency, temporary foster home, Strayer explained. He would stay there until his mother was contacted and arrangements made for him to return home.

Reasons why the boy ran away would be discussed with agency counselors and efforts would be made to improve the relationships or conditions which originally caused the problems, the supervisor related.

Emergency, temporary homes are those in which the child stays from 24 hours to 30 days, reported Strayer.

These foster parents must be willing to accept children at any hour of the day or night. The supervisor said that a child may have been removed from a family crisis just minutes before a temporary foster family is contacted. He may need diagnostic observation before a more permanent plan can be made, or he may need a place to stay while a parent is hospitalized or receiving treatment.

Amy and Andy represent three kinds of foster care resources which are sadly lacking, not only in this area but all over the United States, it was learned.

Amy and Andy are 7-and-8-year-old black youngsters who are brother and sister. Their mother was declared an unfit parent by the court. Amy and Andy love their mother and cannot understand why she has been taken away from them.

Their situation reflects three essential areas of foster care need, frequently the hardest to adequately fulfill — families for black children, families willing to take "older" children — that is, over the age of 5 or 6 years, and families who will accept groups of brothers and sisters.

In Amy and Andy's case, as in many others, adoptive rights were not obtained from the court. This means that their parents must realize that their foster children are not likely to remain with them forever — that the natural parents have the right to keep in touch with them, that they might one day request custody of their children, or that the right adoptive parents might be found, Strayer said.

The Department of Children and Family Services must place children like these in foster families homes everyday, the supervisor said.

"Unfortunately," he continued, "the department does not always have enough foster families available to care for such children."

Some are looking for foster parents who are willing to accept children as they are, with their individual personal problems. Eventually, they need parental care and guidance, like all children.

"We need foster parents for all types of children. But we especially need those who can be understanding of teenagers, those who can be called on at a moment's notice to take children for short periods of time and those who can care for brothers and sisters, or youngsters requiring special attention," said Strayer.

The greatest foster care need, however, is homes for teenagers like Brenda, he stressed.

Some teens are mature and, often from being previously independent, have developed a strong recognition of adults' roles and responsibilities, the supervisor commented.

Strayer pointed out that others have emotional difficulties which frequently show up as behavioral or attitudinal problems, as in Brenda's case. Teenagers in foster care require a great deal of understanding and patient guidance.

There also is a need for appropriate homes for children with chronic medical problems which may necessitate regular medication, frequent doctor visits or close observation.

Some foster children require special attention because of physical, mental, or emotional handicaps, he said.

Different types of foster care homes are needed by the agency so that personnel can draw upon the "right" kind of home to provide the most appropriate care for each foster child, Strayer emphasized.

Twenty-seven qualified people are employed at the Illinois Children and Family Services district office in Edwardsville, including 20 child welfare workers. Further details about the foster care program may be learned by calling 1-866-8020.

200 railroad carloads of bulk raw materials per day. It uses more refractory or heat-resistant brick, natural gas, fuel oil, oxygen and rolling oils than any other company in the metropolitan area.

It is one of the area's three largest users of electricity and the second largest of coal and water. It buys substantial tonnages of aluminum and copper and more zinc than all but a handful of companies in the United States.

Granite City Steel also buys comparatively minor supplies in volume. As an example, purchases in one year included the following: 66,449 flashlight batteries, 23,728 pounds of hand soap, 4,600 bars of face soap, 5,125 cans of cleaner, 1,812 shoes, 138,160 pairs of protective gloves and 2,206 rolls, or 25 miles, of 3/4-inch friction tape.

The purchasing staff sees more than 50 salesmen a day in shopping for such items as whisk brooms, trash spillovers, stapling machines, hammers, Diesel locomotives, light bulbs, typewriters, tabulating machines, steel rolls, microscopes and safety hats, shoes and glasses.

In addition to Granite City Steel, National Steel Corp. operates two other subsidiaries in the St. Louis region, the Granco Steel Products Co., 6506 North Broadway, St. Louis, and the Bull Moose Tube Co. in Gerald, Mo.

News Notes

Oregon by a 50-9 vote and Minnesota by a 48-18 vote on Thursday became the 25th and 26th states to ratify the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution. Mississippi postponed action indefinitely. Ratification by 38 states is necessary for adoption of the amendment, which would ban discrimination on the basis of sex.

The Mississippi River Festival board last week approved searches of lunch containers of next summer's concert-goers to prevent use of alcoholic beverages. There were some injuries last year from thrown bottles and cans. Arrest of drug offenders also is planned.

State Comptroller George Lindberg said Thursday he raised $138,000 and spent $130,000 in his campaign. Expenses included $6,000 for his travel expenses and $20,000 salary. The highest case fees missed while campaigning.

Pen Central freight and passenger trains resumed operation Friday as President Nixon signed a hastily-passed congressional resolution that halted Thursday's trainmen's strike for at least 90 days.

Madison County Board members per diem expense claims for January totaled $13,000, plus $1,477 mileage.

The Bi-State Development Agency has decided to ask all cities and villages in the metropolitan area to allocate 10% of their federal revenue sharing funds for mass transit.

The Southern Illinois University board on Friday authorized preparation of a resolution to sell $5.5 million of University Facilities revenue bonds, Series F, to finance purchase of a 248-unit student housing complex to be built by the SIU Foundation on the local campus.

State Rep. Horace Calvo was named Thursday as a Democratic co-sponsor of the Cities and Villages Committee. He will serve on the Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee, instead of the Environmental Committee on which he served last year.

Rep. Leland Kennedy was named co-sponsor of the Banks and Savings and Finance Committee and a member of the Industrial Affairs and Public Utilities Committee.

Joel Edelman, 41, executive vice president of Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center, Chicago, was named acting director of the Department of Public Aid Thursday by Gov. Dan Walker.

Gov. Walker also named Victor de Grazia, 43, as deputy to the governor; de Grazia, who offered a mild heart attack Dec. 13, returned to full-time work last week.

Chief Circuit Judge Fred P. Schuman said Friday that overcrowded court facilities may force a halt in calling juries.

The County Land Use and Environmental Control committees discussed Friday a proposal to give the latter unit power to order derelict autos removed from private property.

Gov. Dan Walker said Saturday it would be premature to typify his policy as opposing downstate highway building. On Thursday, he issued an executive order requiring all state jobs to be filled on merit, with no employe asking or requiring any other to do a political contribution.

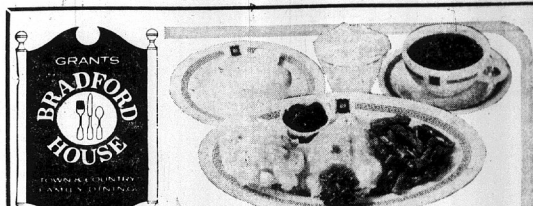

Bi-State Development Agency members said Saturday they oppose a plan to transfer transit system control to the East-West Coordinating Council.

John Shaffer, retiring Federal Aviation administrator, said Friday he wants no further studies of the need for new or expanded major airport facilities in this metropolitan area. "There is already more than enough information" to show whether a new airport should be built, he said.

The U. S. will issue safety standards soon that could require seat belts on the 26 million children who travel to school by bus.

The U. S. has increased to more than $1 million the amount of taxes and penalties it says are owed by the estate of the late Paul Powell, former Illinois secretary of state.

Zoning Board Delays Recommendation

INTIMIDATION CHARGED

Arthur Heatherly, 28, of 3218a Killarney Drive, was arrested by Granite City police at his home at 4:30 p.m. Thursday on a warrant charging him with intimidation. He allegedly threatened Madison County Deputy Sheriff Stanley Wojcik who signed a complaint against Heatherly. He was taken to the Madison County Jail and bond was set at $5,000.

A recommendation on a special use permit for construction of a hospital between Collinsville and Edwardsville was held in abeyance by the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals pending a meeting at 10 a.m. Feb. 21 at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

The zoning board recommended approval of the petition of Bernice Baucum to place a mobile home in Nameoki Township for a period not to exceed five years. It is subject to approval by the Madison County Board at its meeting Wednesday morning.

BURGLARY AT TAVERN

Survey of Illinois Manufacturers Discloses Bleak Future Outlook for Energy Supply

The Illinois Manufacturers' Association on Friday released a report of energy shortage in Illinois during the period of Oct. 1 to Jan. 15, showing that shortages of natural gas, oil and propane had hurt over 7% of companies responding to the survey.

On Jan. 23, IMA mailed 6,075 energy questionnaires to key personnel of 5,000 member plants. As of the middle of last week, 1,226 questionnaires had been returned to the Chicago office, and replies continue to be received.

Among the key findings of the survey:

1. Twenty-three per cent of the total of 1,226 responding companies have been affected by the shortages. These concerns range from higher costs for alternative fuels to plant shutdowns.
2. Ten plants were shut down in the period covered; 37 plants suffered curtailed production. At least 13,000 employees were affected at a cost of some $3 million in lost wages and production.
3. Fifty-three companies, or 4% of the total, have had expansion plans delayed by the shortage of fuel.

The report relates that the Midwest, including Illinois, has been spared the full effects of the current clean fuel energy shortage.

A mild January obscures a fundamental economic and political problem which will, in time, affect most manufacturers and processors in Illinois, as well as commercial establishments and the public directly, the IMA said.

"The roots of our current and projected energy shortage are many," it is contended.

Unrealistically low prices for natural gas and oil, coupled with strict environmental limitations on the burning of Illinois coal, have provided a strong economic push toward utilization of artificially cheap fuels by large industrial and utility customers.

"The import quotas and the dependency on foreign oil producers have further restricted supply. The Tax Reform Act of 1969 also reduced export incentives.

Additional factors contribute to the bleak long-term outlook for tight gas and oil supplies.

"These factors are the lower efficiency of automobile engines (because of pollution control devices), lack of oil super-tanker docking facilities, and electric utility consumption of natural gas and heating oils to offset lags in nuclear generating capacity.

"All these and other causes—including the waste of fuel by sloppy housekeeping practices add to the probable shortage of clean fuels for industrial plants."

"While the causes and cures of the energy shortages are national and international in scope, there are steps Illinois manufacturers and manufacturers can take.

"These include fuel conservation practices and examination of these unprofitable units of production on the burning of Illinois coal."

General Steel Reports $5 Million Loss and $31 Million Charge

General Steel Industries, Inc., late Thursday announced results for 1972 which confirmed preliminary estimates in a December report of a loss from operations of $5,088,000.

Also included for 1972 is an extraordinary charge of $31,173,000 arising from discontinuance of the St. Louis Car Division and the Castings Division, the latter situated in Granite City.

The loss for the year amounted to $2.02 per share before the extraordinary charge and $14.39 after the extraordinary charge, as compared with a per share loss of $3.48 in 1971 and a net loss of $676,000.

For the continuing operations of General Steel, net sales in 1972 were $42,256,000 as compared to $36,360,000 in 1971. Pre-tax earnings for continuing operations amounted to $3,602,000 in 1972 as compared to $1,368,000 in the prior year.

"Nineteen seventy-two was the year in which we reluctantly—and only after examining all known alternatives—made the decision to close the St. Louis Car and Castings Divisions. Terminating GSI's operation of these unprofitable units was necessary to free the corporation of an intolerable financial drain," Gray said.

"Operations at the two divisions are being phased out and, with completion of present contracts, their assets will be liquidated."

"A major effort lies before management in 1973 to insure the orderly liquidation of discontinued units within estimated costs, and to realize maximum benefits from their disposal," he said.

"In evaluating GSI's future prospects, it should be remembered that the company has made substantial capital improvements in new plant and facilities to support future growth and profitability in each of our continuing divisions."

"These units enjoy the benefits of approximately $25,300,000 invested in modern plant and facilities in the eight years since 1964."

"The capital additions significantly increased their manufacturing capacity and strengthened their market positions."

"While the restructured GSI has substantial earnings capacity, our results for the years immediately ahead will reflect unusually large interest charges associated with the heavy indebtedness we have incurred as a result of past problems with the Car and Castings divisions."

GSI's five ongoing divisions are National Roll Division, maker of cast iron and steel rolls used in steel mills and mills for the reduction of non-ferrous metals; Flex-O-Lite Division, producer of reflective products for highway and traffic safety.

Standard Pipeprotection Division, applicator of protective coatings and wrappings to steel pipe and a producer of extruded plastic pipe; Ludlow-Saylor Wire Cloth Division, manufacturer of industrial wire cloth and screen; and Simplicity Division, producer of wire mesh and builder of screening, crushing and conveying equipment.

Tax Credits Allowed for Hiring Public Aid Clients

Tax credits have been implemented by the federal government in an effort to encourage employers to hire persons who are members of families receiving public assistance, according to Ernest W. Kuhn, employer relations representative of the Work Incentive Program.

By filling vacancies with applicants from the WIN programs, employers can claim a federal income tax credit equal to 20% of the first 12 months earnings of employees hired through the WIN program, Kuhn explained.

To qualify for the tax credit, certain criteria must be met, i.e., the employee on whose income the credit is based shall not have displaced any individual from employment; wages paid must consist of cash remuneration only, including amounts deducted or withheld; wages paid must be in the employers trade or business; the employee may not be a close relative of the employer.

The credit applies to all wages, paid or incurred during the employee's first 12 months employment. If the employee quits or is discharged for misconduct, the credit still is available on the months he was employed.

If the employee is discharged without cause during the first 24 months, the tax credit would not be available and, if previously claimed, would be subject to recovery.

In addition to the tax credit, employers can receive reimbursement for the cost of training an employee in a specific occupation, Kuhn said. Under the WIN on-the-job training program, the employer will be reimbursed for training costs up to 50% of the employee's wages. The period of time covered by an on-the-job training contract can range from 6 weeks to 44 weeks, depending on the level of skill involved for the job. The employer forfeits no rights under an on-the-job training contract.

He retains the right of selecting the person or persons to be trained and the employers normal personnel and performance requirements apply to the trainee during and after completion of the training contract. The WIN program feels it is necessary that applicants be referred to positions which result in meaningful, self-sustaining employment and that employers have applicants who are dependable, capable workers.

Extensive aptitude testing and vocational counseling are provided.

provided to assist the applicant in selecting an occupation that it consistent with his abilities and interests and to assure the employer he is hiring a person capable of performing the job.

Thus, a worthwhile service is provided for both the job applicant and the prospective employer by the Work Incentive Program.

The WIN Program offers employment planning, counseling, vocational training, on-the-job training, and, above all, job placement services for WIN Participants to achieve their goal of returning to the mainstream of the nation's economy and society.

Any employer interested in helping achieve these goals, as well as obtaining the financial benefits available through the tax credit and on-the-job training contract, should contact Madison County WIN at 876-8943 or St. Clair County WIN at 273-3200 and ask for a representative of the Job Development Unit.

Dixon to Oppose Change In Tax Exempt Status of State, Municipal Bonds

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon announced Thursday he has taken the first step in fighting any Congressional action that would alter the tax exempt status of state or municipal bonds "because it would raise by at least 40% the cost to Illinois taxpayers of issuing such bonds."

Dixon told a news conference in the State of Illinois building that he has learned from press reports that Chairman Wilbur Mills and the U. S. House Ways and Means Committee plan to offer legislation that would destroy or alter the tax exempt status of state and municipal bonds.

The treasurer said he has written to Mills, asking an opportunity to be heard in opposition to such legislation, explaining: "The loss of the tax exempt status would naturally make such bonds much less attractive to the investor and the interest rate that the state and municipalities would have to pay to make their bonds marketable would increase dramatically."

"In other words, the taxpayers would be paying much more to finance very vital projects," he declared.

He pointed to a recent example, in which last month, the treasurer's office accepted bids on $150,000,000 in bonds, for the state's capital development and for transportation.

"The net interest cost was approximately $93-million," Dixon wrote Mills, noting that "if these were not tax exempt tion bonds, $361-million in capital development and $700-million in transportation bonds, a total of some $1.7 billion.

"Were these to be sold as taxable bonds, the additional cost to Illinois taxpayers would total about half a billion dollars — from $445-million to $500-million, a cost we simply cannot afford, now or in the foreseeable future."

Local University's Off-Campus Program Described as Unique

Jajes Field, Terceira, Azores—Two thousand miles east of the U. S., on this windy Atlantic island, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville continues to operate a graduate program in which individuals can complete two years of study for the degree of master of science in business administration.

The students are members of the U. S. Air Force, stationed at this North Atlantic Treaty Organization base in the Portuguese Azores.

"We leave the bricks, mortar and ivory-covered walls behind and take education to the students," explains John E. Megley III, associate dean of the SIUE Business Division.

The off-campus program is offered at nine Air Force bases in addition to Lajes Field. There also is a non-military MBA program in St. Louis.

The off-campus program in business administration began in 1969. Megley was its first director.

John P. Phillips, assistant professor of management science, now directs the program.

"The uniqueness of our approach," Phillips said, "is that our faculty in the program is the same as our campus faculty. Every professor assigned to teach off-campus is a member of the SIUE graduate faculty."

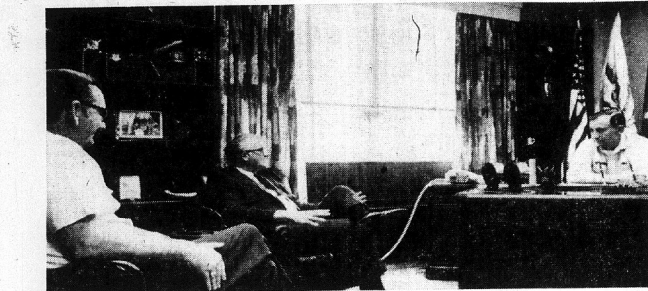

At other universities, Phillips said, off-campus programs usually have faculties that are not affiliated with the on-campus faculty.

Business Division professors who are members of the graduate faculty teach in the off-campus program in addition to, or instead of, on-campus teaching.

Assignment to the program is rotated among the qualified faculty.

Megley believes that an advantage accrues to both on- and off-campus students because of the cross-assignment of faculty.

"Professors are able to bring fresh ideas to off-campus students," he said, "and in turn they acquire other new ideas there, that they are able to bring back to their on-campus classes."

The assignment of faculty to the program involves a considerable amount of travel on their part. The travel and other expenses of the program are borne by student tuition.

"Not one dollar of Illinois taxpayers' money is spent in the program," Megley said.

Since the program began in 1969, more than 125 off-campus students have graduated.

Although most have never seen the local campus, some have completed their other obligations before finishing their course work, and have come to SIUE to complete their studies as on-campus students.

The off-campus program is built around a series of core courses totaling 48 quarter hours, the same number as required on campus.

Students enroll in "cycles," and take the courses in a certain order.

They take one course at a time, each meeting in the classroom only twice, each time for three full days. Between these weekend meetings, the students are arranged in teams for further study, usually in each others' homes.

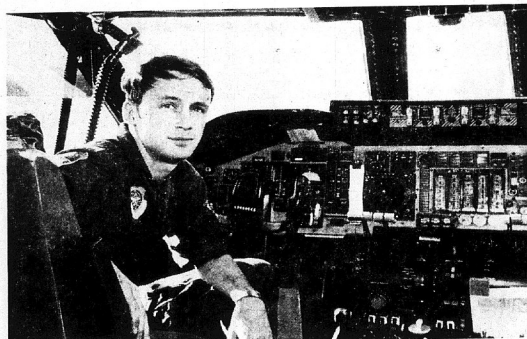

Off-campus students are thus able to complete two full courses in the 12-week quarter.

The only difference between this arrangement and the traditional one is that the off-campus students take their two courses per quarter one after the other, rather than simultaneously.

In addition to the business program, the university administers a graduate program in government and public affairs at two off-campus locations. Other programs are being studied by other academic units.

"These programs are harbingers of what the university of the 1980s will look like," Megley said.

He believes that education in the coming years will rely less on the "bricks and mortar" of traditional university study, and more on new systems to deliver the same education to different student constituencies.

One of the Azores-based students has extended his military service in order to complete the program. Staff Sgt. Luciano Zaffina is the non-commissioned officer in charge of records and reports of the 160th Transportation Squadron at Lajes Field.

He is eligible for separation from the Air Force in August 1973, but has extended until November in order to complete the MBA course work.

"The Air Force has been good to me," Zaffina said, "and a large part of that is this program. This to me was a great opportunity."

Lincoln Never Celebrated His Own Birthday

Springfield, Ill. — The most important historical events in Illinois during February for more than half a century have been the observances of Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

These observances, in the form of banquets, pilgrimages and special programs and displays have increased in number and attendance year after year. But Lincoln himself never observed his birthday, nor as far as historians have learned, did he ever receive a birthday present.

The most authoritative study of Lincoln's activities is the three-volume work titled "Lincoln Day by Day, a Chronology, 1809-1865", edited by Earl Schenck Miers and published in 1960 by the Lincoln Sequel-entennial Commission.

It is a revised version of earlier works compiled by Lincoln scholars Paul M. Angle, Harry E. Pratt and Benjamin

P. Thomas. The revision merely added newly discovered material. A search through "Day by Day" and other publications, manuscripts and new editions of the Illinois State Historical Library reveals all that historians know about Lincoln's birthdays.

In response to a request for a biographical sketch, Lincoln wrote in June, 1860, "I was born Feb. 12, 1809, in then Hardin County, Kentucky, at a point within the new recently formed county of LaRue, a mile, or a mile and a half from where Hodginsville now is." Although this is his only mention of the date the records show what he was doing on most of his birthdays.

During the period from 1834 to 1842 when he was a Sangamon County representative, Lincoln spent the day attending sessions of the Illinois General Assembly. Between then and 1860 (when he was elected President) his birthdays were spent either in court or at his office.

This routine was interrupted by his term in the Thirtieth Congress (1847-49) when he attended the sessions on his birthday. Incidentally, "Day by Day" reports that on Feb. 12, 1844, he "buys pr. socks for Robt., age 6 mo., for 15c" and on that date in 1851 he "spends 7c for lb. nails."

On Feb. 12, 1853, the Illinois State Senate voted to change the county seat of Logan County from Mt. Pulaski to Lincoln's namesake town — the house had passed the measure the previous day. That was as close as he ever came to receiving a birthday present.

Lincoln's busiest birthday was undoubtedly his fifty-second — Feb. 12, 1861. It was also probably his most enjoyable. He had left Springfield the previous morning enroute to Washington to assume the presidency and had stayed overnight at the Bates House in Indianapolis.

On the morning of the 12th he had breakfast at the Indiana governor's mansion and then went to the capitol to greet members of the legislature. Back at his hotel he addressed a crowd that had gathered there, and welcomed Mrs. Lincoln and their sons who had arrived on a later train.

At about 11 a.m. the party boarded a train for Cincinnati, and Lincoln made brief rear platform speeches at stops in five Indiana towns enroute. A huge and enthusiastic crowd greeted him in Cincinnati and he rode in a two-hour party to the Burser House where he addressed the crowd, attended a public reception in the dining room, and later spoke to another large audience from the hotel balcony.

On his four birthdays in Washington Lincoln spent most of his time at his White House desk. On Feb. 12, 1862, his son Willie was sick with typhoid fever and the President was with him much of the day — the boy died on Feb. 20.

On Feb. 12, 1864, Lincoln held a cabinet meeting at which a "little of particular importance" happened. His last birthday, Feb. 12, 1865, was one of business as usual.

The previous evening he attended a reception which Mrs. Lincoln held but there was no mention that it had anything to do with the President's birthday.

Howlett Cutting Costs and Hopes to Upgrade Services

Copley News Service
Springfield — Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett is continuing a tradition he established after serving as state auditor for 12 years — he is trying to upgrade the services of the office at a minimum of cost.

Shortly after being sworn into office as secretary of state, Howlett began looking for ways to cut costs. He had appointed a committee earlier to study the operations of the office in detail and recommendations were made for improvement.

But Howlett isn't a person to leave all of the work to committees and study groups. For instance, shortly after taking over the office he moved stacks of daily newspapers being brought around the office for various executives. This was stopped.

He told them if they want the papers they will have to purchase them at the state capital newsstand on an individual basis and pay for them upon purchase. The office would no longer foot the bill.

Howlett also decided to eliminate piped-in music to the various offices under his jurisdiction. He decided to check the use of state-owned automobiles in his office. This is being done with an eye toward the possibility of eliminating or reassigning those not needed for legislative business.

Another program Howlett wants to upgrade in the secretary's office is central purchasing with open, competitive bidding.

He also wants to control the possible change orders on work contracts once they have been awarded. In this regard he wants to form a review board to examine possible changes.

Among new programs Howlett proposed for the secretary's office, the most widely known and approved is his plan to issue identification cards on request to the elderly, handicapped and others who don't drive but need identification for cashing checks and other purposes.

In Illinois, it has become an accepted practice to use an individual's driver license for identification. Howlett's proposal that there be insurance discounts to drivers with good safety records appears to be gaining a great deal of support.

He also wants to provide information to local public libraries in an effort to serve them as centers for state government information.

Howlett apparently won't be able to duplicate the savings in the former auditor's office, because of the wide range of services carried out by the secretary's office. But he certainly appears determined to bring about some changes.

Township Salary Raises Effective For New Terms

Township salary raises voted last week will become effective with the beginning of new terms of office — on May 1 for the Granite City supervisor and on Jan. 1, 1974, for the assessor.

Salaries of public officials cannot be changed in mid-terms. Aldermen Roy Poulos, Gerald Parnley and Emerald Dawes spearheaded last week's opposition to a $20,000 per year salary for the mayor's office. Dawes contended that a salary of $18,500 would be more appropriate for the office.

Parnley said the mayor "doesn't run the city with (aldermen) who refuse to vote for a 4% raise for city employees nor turn around and vote for a 32% raise for the mayor. . . I say that a 32% raise is too much for any one job at any one time."

Poulos, who placed the ordinance before the city council as chairman of the Ordinance Committee, protested that the mayor also receives $75 a month car allowance, $125 per month in expenses and $1,000 a year as liquor control commissioner.

"This means the mayor would receive about $23,000 a year. I can't favor this kind of a salary as long as all those extras go along with the job. Steve Basarich, chairman of the Finance Committee, made the motion to approve the $20,000 mayorality salary, but on a roll call with one member absent and one abstaining, the vote was tied 2 to 2.

Those voting in favor of the salary raise were Aldermen Clyde Boyd, Frank Greenwald, Sam Whitmer, Walter Nomm, William Dallas and Basarich. Alderman Thomas Boker had left the meeting before the vote and Alderman Paul Schuler abstained since he is a candidate for mayor in the April 3 city election.

Voting against the salary raise were Aldermen R. E. Robertson, Claude Green, Everett Morten, Parnley, Poulos and Dawes.

The vote on the salary raise bills followed opposition for selection of a mayor pro-tem when the Town Board meeting was convened.

Nomm, alderman of the Fifth Ward and the alderman with the longest service on the council, defeated Robertson in the selection of an acting mayor. Nomm polled 9 yes votes and Robertson polled 5 yes votes in separate balloting.

After defeating the proposed salary raise for the mayor's office, the council agreed to refer the matter back to the Finance Committee for a future recommendation.

The council also was informed that construction of drainage facilities to serve the Melrose-Bourcliff area would cost an estimated $556,000, of which $496,000 would be construction cost and the balance in engineering fees.

The council voted to place the report on file.

Abraham Lincoln of Illinois Stands Tall in History

Editor's note: Today, Feb. 12, the nation celebrates the birth of Abraham Lincoln, our 16th president. Destined to guide the United States through one of its darkest periods, Lincoln made decisions based on principles that are as valid today as they were in his time.

By ROBERT BETTS
Copley News Service
Eighty-four and four years ago this nation brought forth a genius named Abraham Lincoln. He was destined to guide it through the darkest period of its history.

Of all the great figures America has produced, none stands taller than this towering champion of human dignity, equality and freedom.

Yet during his lifetime, until it was ended by an assassin's bullet at 56, no man was more belittled and scorned.

"Traitor," "bloated criminal," "charlatan," "illiterate man who jukes when a nation mourns"—these and other slanders he bore with a broad-shouldered stride and malice toward none, with charity for all.

Lincoln's world of cravats, crinolines and huge carriages may seem dustily remote from the modern world of space rockets and nuclear bombs.

The decisions he made as President, however, were founded on principles that are as valid today as they were then.

There are striking parallels between the problems prevailing in Lincoln's troubled time and those facing the nation today, when again it is divided over moral issues and a Presidential decision could mean the difference between freedom and bondage.

Minority rights, dissidents, activists, antiwar protesters, draft-dodgers, riotous violence and lawlessness—none of these was new to Lincoln.

He spoke of "the increasing disregard for law which pervades the country—the growing disposition to substitute wild and furious passions in lieu of sober judgment, and the worse-than-savage mobs for the executive ministers of justice."

The self-taught lawyer from backwoods country was aware that preservation of the nation depended on vigilance in maintaining its laws and institutions.

He had an abiding faith in the strength and virtue of the people to perfect their own destinies through ordered self-government.

"This country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it," he said in his first inaugural address.

"Why should there not be a patient confidence in the ultimate justice of the people? Is there any better or equal hope in the world?"

This "patient confidence" was to be severely tested. Lincoln did not want the tragic war between the states. But when it came, he produced it with all his being, determined to defend union and liberty, insisting that "the struggle of today is not altogether for today; it is for a vast future also."

As the cruel conflict dragged on and casualties mounted on both sides, so did criticism of Lincoln grow.

He was accused of provoking the war.

"We have no honeyed words such a ruler as Abraham Lincoln," wrote a New Jersey editor.

He described him as "a prepared traitor, who has betrayed his country and caused the butchery of hundreds of thousands of people of the United States in order to accomplish either his own selfish purpose, or to put in force a fanatical, impracticable idea."

Others blamed him for carrying on a war they said should have been avoided.

Powerful voices in Congress denounced his military victories on the battlefield, that he could not be won and, in fact, was already lost.

There was growing public clamor for peace at any price.

Inflation, caused by unprecedented federal spending and huge budget deficits, added to the general dissatisfaction.

The national debt rose, national credit was seriously impaired, and critics in Congress moved to choke off appropriations.

"Defeat, debt, taxation, sequechures, these are your trophies," growled Congressman Clement L. Vallandigham, leader of the western Peace Democrats, in one bitter denunciation.

The war for the Union is, in your hands, a most bloody and costly failure. . . and you have not conquered the South. You never will."

Vallandigham called for a halt to the fighting. "Make an armistice—no formal treaty," he demanded.

"Withdraw your army from the accursed states," he demanded.

Subversive influences also were at work.

Extremists, belonging to secret groups and plotting in local cells, organized resistance to the draft and encouraged desertion.

Through all the discord and dissension, Lincoln held unwaveringly his moral convictions.

He refused to be distracted by canticles of personality and detail. The preservation of the American experiment in government overshadowed all other questions.

Lincoln's cautious, pragmatic approach to every problem summed up in his frank assertion: "My policy is to have no policy"—gave rise to frequent accusations of opportunism.

In fact, far from compromising his beliefs for self-gain or to appease others, he stuck stubbornly to the hard line of principle.

"Important principles may and must be flexible," he also said.

His guiding principle was the Declaration of Independence proposition that "all men are created equal" and that self-determination was their inalienable right.

Though he won undying glory as the "Great Emancipator," he regarded the freedom of slaves as incidental to the larger issues of preserving the American ideal of self-government.

He was accused of provoking the war.

Venice to Seek Street Outlet at Dunbar School

Venice Mayor John E. Lee, with Edward J. Jeneau, city consulting engineer, and Harry Hartman, city attorney, will meet with the Madison School Board at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to seek agreement for a street outlet by Dunbar School onto Weaver Street, the Venice City Council was informed last week.

In other council business, Superintendent of Streets Jay Maurer was instructed to check all stop signs in the city and make certain that they are proper height and not in need of repairs.

It was reported that drainage plans for the area of Line Alley at Calhoun and Logan streets have been submitted to state transportation officials. As soon as approval is given, the city will call bids.

On a motion by Alderman John Ervin the council approved the purchase of a 55-gallon drum of Loc, a chemical added to the water carried by fire trucks. The chemical breaks down the water and makes it 300 times wetter. The cost of the drum is $185.

Chief of Police Brawley informed the council that work on the city hall remodeling is proceeding according to schedule and no major problems have arisen.

A letter from R. L. Hillard, district manager of the Granite City District, East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co., stating that a complete inventory of fire hydrants in Venice has been made, was read to the council.

The inventory showed that presently 64 fire hydrants are in service. A list of locations here through March 3.

The hydrants were attached to the letter.

The treasurers report for January was read and approved. The report listed total expenditures in the General Fund of $42,063. Receipts for the month were $20,294.31, with an actual cash balance of $83,150.96 at the beginning of February.

Blue Waters Drainage Public Meeting Set

A public meeting to discuss proposals for the interior drainage problem in the Blue Waters Ditch area has been announced by the St. Louis District Corps of Engineers.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 7, at Wirth Junior High School on Moussette Lane near Cahokia.

Three approaches designed to meet the basic flood control problem have been developed and will be explained. Col. Guy E. Jester of the district corps said that each of the three approaches also contain possibilities to satisfy other water resource needs. He pointed out that many of the communities lack parks and recreational facilities.

The 8,100-acre Blue Waters area contains portions of Cahokia, Sauget, Alorton, Centerville and East St. Louis, along with unincorporated St. Clair County areas. The 32,000 residents have been facing a serious problem because of inadequate drainage.

The industrial and residential growth in the communities has been jeopardized because the flooding continues to hamper development of some hazardous areas.

A guidance committee composed of the State of Illinois, Bureau of Water Resources Management, St. Clair County Administration, East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission and the East Side Levee and Sanitary District assisted in the formulation of the three proposals. The committee has indicated a preference for one of the three plans called the "interior protection option" because of the advantages in cost, time required and for the minimal disruption of community life.

Colonel Jester said that participation through the public meeting was very important. "An exchange of ideas makes us all more aware of the problems and how proper planning will help to solve them."

He stressed that attendance and presentation of statements, written and oral, at the meeting become part of the official record. Jester said "photos, graphs and charts are important to us, and we can reproduce them and return them to the owners."

Jester said that while oral statements are sought, written statements are preferred because they can be more accurately entered into the transcript.

The Blue Waters Ditch area is one portion of the entire Hillside Drainage study.

The Schermers Bulletin...

THE SCHERMERS BROS. were in sunny California last week, San Francisco to be exact. Rained every day. Did not see the sun until we got back to "good old Illinois."

We saw some interesting things in the super market business. Would you believe the high price for steak that we saw was $6.49 per pound? We saw super markets that don't allow carts out of the store. Not only do they fail to give "carry-out" service, but they have a device near the door that makes it impossible to roll a cart through the door. So, you pick up your bags of groceries and struggle to your car. What a way of doing business.

We have a big Cornish hen sale going on. Large size Cornish hens for 39 cents each. This is by far the best meat value anywhere. One customer told us she can feed a family of six with three hens and have leftovers, so, stock your freezer. They are even cheaper by the dozen, $6.49. We have enough for a few weeks and then we have a promise of some in April.

The Madison Lions are making plans for their annual Pancake Breakfast and Avery is again the chairman. We lost track but we think this is either number 17 or 18 for Avery. As usual it will take place on Palm Sunday. We hope we have a nice day.

We still have a good assortment of valentines. If you need a last minute supply Schermers have 'em.

Parking Meter Income $4,320 in January

This year has started as a good one for the Granite City government — at least as far as income from parking meters is concerned.

The first month's collection of $4,320 in January was the highest collection for that month in six years. In 1967, $4,400 was collected in meter fees and fines during the first month.

This year's January collection, which included $3,673 in fees and $647 in fines, exceeded last year's collection in the first month which totaled $3,702, including $3,037 in fees and $665 in fines.

Parking meters operated 26 days last month and the average daily collection was $166, exceeding the $148 average daily collection in the same month of last year and equal to the monthly average for all of 1972.

Springfield. The contractor is Charles E. Wood of Belleville. When completed the structure will have 28,000 square feet of floor space and will occupy a four and a half acre tract of land.

Public Employe Bargaining Provided in House Bill

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service
Springfield — The 78th General Assembly moves along and already a long series of bills dealing with public education have hit the legislative grind mill.

Legislation which probably will be watched closely deals with giving the right of public employe labor unions, including teachers' unions or groups, the right to bargain collectively with their employers.

The legislation, sponsored by Rep. Thomas J. Hanahan Jr., D-McHenry, also provides for a state labor relations board to supervise elections of public employe labor unions and investigate charges of unfair labor practices.

Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Skokie, has introduced a bill which provides that teacher dismissal hearings be held before a disinterested hearing officer appointed and paid by the State School Supt.'s Office.

Rep. W. T. Simms, R-Rockford, has introduced a bill in the House which provides that the Public Health Department require school children to be immunized against communicable diseases before entering the fifth grade.

Simms also is sponsoring legislation which provides for state income tax credits for contributions made to institutions of higher learning.

Rep. Daniel Pierce, D-Highland Park, is sponsoring legislation which provides for a come tax exemption for tuition of up to $2,000 per child for children attending public or private schools inside or out of the state.

Two bills have been introduced in the House which might have something to do with revenues for public schools.

Rep. J. David Jones, R-Springfield, introduced a bill to increase the homestead exemption for persons 65 years of age and over from $1,500 to $2,500.

Rep. Clyde Lee Chastain, D-Ana, is sponsoring a bill under which the state would pay property owners the difference between their 1972 and 1973 tax bills.

These are just a few education bills that have hit the hopper. More will be coming in on this broad field.

Death Rate Higher During January

An unusually high number of deaths and a low number of births were reported in the Quad-City area in January, according to a vital statistics report released by Robert W. Stevens, city clerk of Granite City.

The report shows 47 deaths last month, the highest number since June of 1970 when a like number of 47 was reported. In 1972, deaths averaged 34 per month, with 38 reported in December.

A total of 70 births last month was the lowest since June when 50 babies were born here. In December, 101 births were reported, according to the report.

Two fetal deaths were reported in January, fewer than the three in December but more than the average in 1972 of .83 per month.

Traffic accidents in Granite City last week involved autos driven by:

Frank E. Aldridge, 2561 Ivy Lane, and Cynthia Schuler, 3237 Newell Drive, at Johnson Road and Lydia Lane.

Robert Campbell, 2334 Lincoln Ave., Billy Swearingen, 2254 Washington Ave., which was parked, and John Mowery Jr., Dupo, in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue.

William Dunham, 2917 Sunset Drive, and Al Wagner, 2310 E. 24th St., at St. Clair and Edgewood avenues.

Charles W. Powell, Pittsfield, and Sandra S. West, 2433 St. Clair Ave., at 1800 State St.

Continuing, she said, "This accounted for the need to change our name to the Abuse and Addiction Treatment Center."

Mrs. Donna Kamper, social worker, said, "Drinking or drug abuse can be associated

Treatment Center Fighting Alcoholism. Third Ranking Health Problem in Nation

Alcoholism is the nation's third ranking health problem, Margaret Tighe, director of the Abuse and Addiction Treatment Center at Alton State Hospital, told the Press-Record.

"People can repeat the program here a tremendous number of times because we never know what specific time might be the time that they will hear the message."

The program has six professional treatment staff members, who work with an average of 25 clients.

These clients live on the wards and come to the program by recommendation of their primary therapist, on a seven-day-a-week basis.

A structured program is held Monday through Friday, and the weekend program is geared to explore the question, "How do you use your leisure time?"

Staff members work on an alternate schedule during the weekends, and they also give them an opportunity to do individual counseling, as well as orientate both visitors and families to the program, and to conduct interviews.

Increasing the program to include weekends began recently.

"Weekends are a relaxed time for both clients and their families to be involved in therapy groups," the director has pointed out.

The structured program offers Group Therapy, Individual Therapy, Role Training, Experiential Groups, Lectures, and Tapes, Introduction to Alcoholics Anonymous, Activity Therapy and Physical Fitness Therapy.

How long a client remains in the program depends on each individual. The staff tries to set up certain goals and if he reaches that goal, he is recommended to his primary therapist for discharge.

The program is not necessarily a six-week program anymore, Ann Huebner, Alcoholism counselor, said, "It depends on what the client is saying about himself and his family."

"It depends also on how he looks at his problem and how he takes steps to deal with these problems."

Client's attendance at AA meetings and community AA meetings every Monday night, held at the hospital, is required.

Through this meeting, they establish some communication lines on who to contact for help when they go home. And it is an educational tool for rehabilitation.

On Wednesday evening, selected clients attend AA meetings in Edwardsville.

On Thursday night, some attend Alcoholics Anonymous meetings in the community.

Drug abusers are treated in the program, too, Margaret Tighe said. "Anyone having a chemical abuse problem is a member of the program."

Continuing, she said, "This accounted for the need to change our name to the Abuse and Addiction Treatment Center."

Mrs. Donna Kamper, social worker, said, "Drinking or drug abuse can be associated with other problem areas. Recognizing this, our program is founded on giving the clients and relatives alternatives in handling these problem areas as well as the chemical abuse.

"We assist our clients to develop better self images of themselves. We refer them to our Special Education Department, where many of them have successfully completed G.E.D. (General Education Development) certification. And we contact rehabilitation counselors to work with them to find suitable employment."

"All of our staff members work in crisis intervention situations by telephone," she added.

Stan Jakuski, mental health supervisor, said, "Many times a client comes back because he feels he's heading for shakiness; a visit at the program does a lot with the staff helps reinforce him."

A client who returned for that reason said, "The past year while I was in the program just wasn't working for me at home, so I wanted to return and a new pattern of life was developed."

There are an estimated 548,000 alcoholics in Illinois. In Madison County, there is an estimated 12,143; in St. Clair County, the estimate is 14,035.

Persons may seek help and/or referrals from Alcoholics Anonymous; the Madison County Alcoholism Council; both the Alton and Granite City Mental Health Clinics; and the Department of Mental Health Subregion Offices at Edwardsville and East St. Louis; and at the Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Council of East St. Louis.

To assist in developing comprehensive regional networks of alcohol treatment facilities, the Illinois Department of Mental Health is establishing alcoholism review teams in each of its seven regions.

Under the direction of regional alcoholism coordinators, the review teams will make extensive surveys of community needs and existing programs.

After the surveys are completed, regional plans of action will be developed. "In keeping with the department's policy of community orientation and direction, community task forces and advisory groups are essential for the development and sanction of regional plans of action."

The Illinois Department of Mental Health is implementing a statewide program for prevention, treatment and control of alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

According to James F. Griffin Jr., the department's health program policy advisor on alcoholism, "The new Illinois plan is intended to assure adequate and assessable treatment programs for the half-million alcoholics in Illinois."

Increased Retirement Income Security for Employees Is Goal Of Proposal Which Will Be the Topic of Hearings This Week

Comment by the Press-Record bureau in Washington—The Senate is giving the green light to a pension reform bill that was so badly mauled in committee last year it was discarded in the closing days of the 92nd Congress.

Hearings have been scheduled Feb. 15 and 16 by the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee on the legislation, Retirement Income Security for Employees Act, (S.4), introduced by Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., chairman of the committee, and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., senior Republican on the committee, and Sen. Abe Ribicoff, D-Conn., as co-sponsors.

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., is a co-sponsor of the pension reform bill. Gordon Howard, retired advertising director of Elgin National Watch Co., is expected to testify on behalf of pension reform at the hearing.

The Elgin pension fund within a relatively short time has become a cause celebre on Capitol Hill as the result of a concerted letter-writing campaign among Elgin pensioners to put their case before Congress.

Williams' committee last year was unanimous in its support of the pension reform bill when it reported the legislation out. The bill was referred to the Senate Finance Committee, which over Ribicoff's strong objections stripped it of its provisions relating to vesting, funding, portability and plan termination insurance. The bill never passed the Senate.

The sponsors re-introduced the bill on the opening day, Jan. 4, of the 93rd Congress, saying they were heartened by the pledge of leaders on both sides of the aisle to give it priority this session.

They said Congress is "Mindful of the tremendous interest and concern expressed throughout the country over pension and welfare reform legislation."

"We should now move decisively to fulfill this commitment in 1973 because I do not believe that American workers, who are the backbone of our nation's economic and social system, will continue patiently to tolerate further delays and obstacles to the attainment of their just demands for comprehensive protection of their pension rights," Javits said when the 93rd Congress opened.

Pamela Marie Moore and Robert Dyckman Are Wed

The wedding of Miss Pamela Marie Moore, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Moore, 2017 Manley Ave., and Robert William Dyckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dyckman, 2 Nightingale Court, took place Feb. 2 at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony, at seven o'clock in the evening, was the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey.

Musical selections provided prior to the service were sung by Jerry Doyle. They included "A Time For Us," "For All We Know," and the Lord's Prayer.

For her wedding, the former Miss Moore wore a long Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a pinafore effect, created of Venice lace masked with satin ribbon and extending from the shoulders to the hemline.

The round neckline was accented with a lace ruffle, matching the cuffs of the long, full sleeves. A ruffled blouse bordered the straight skirt, ending in a full sweep train.

The bride chose a mantilla veil secured with a camelot headpiece of pearls and lace. The veil was edged with scallops of lace and appliqued with lace motifs. She held a cascade of white roses and baby breath.

The matron of honor was an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Jeanne Kasson, and the bridesmaids were Misses Janice and Laurie Ann Moore and Mrs. Phyllis Neswitz.

They were gowning in royal blue velvet dresses made with white crepe pinafore tops with long sleeves and high necklines. Each attendant wore a blue picture hat and held a bouquet of blue and white "mums."

The little flower girl, Tammy Kasson, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a white velvet frock designed similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses. Tommy Kasson, the bride's cousin, was the ringbearer.

Randy Kline attended the groom, as best man, Donald Dyckman, a brother of the groomsmen and Mike Pedigo and Jimmy Kasson, a cousin of the bride, were ushers.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents in their home.

Wedding guests attended a reception at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall in Pontoon Beach immediately following the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyckman are residing in Granite City, following a wedding trip to Orlando, Fla.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride is employed at Key Rexall Drug Inc. Her husband was graduated from Pattonville Senior High School in St. Ann, Mo. He works at American Sheet and Strip Co.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS P. FORTT. Their wedding took place Friday evening at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Judith Ann Raynor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raynor, Box 1022, Rural Route Two.

Judith Raynor Becomes Mrs. Dennis P. Foret

Miss Judith Ann Raynor and Dennis Paul Foret were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on Friday at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, before an altar decorated with bouquets of lavender flowers. White satin bows marked the pews.

The Rev. Robert Becker officiated at the double ring service as the couple repeated their vows at 7 o'clock.

Dwain Bridges sang "One Hand, One Heart" and The Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by Marilyn Stagner.

Miss Denise Mize, a cousin of the bride, registered the guests as they arrived at a reception held at the Long Lake Fireman's Hall immediately following the ceremony.

Proceeding the bride down the white carpeted aisle were Mrs. Gary Sanders, matron of honor, Misses Carolyn and Kathy Raynor, sisters of the bride, and Miss R. and A. Foret, the groom's sister, bridesmaids, and Janet Raynor, another sister of the bride, the flower girl.

Berry Raynor, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Terry Bernick.

Groomsmen and ushers included Kenneth Elliff, Gary Sanders, Dwight Foret, a brother of the groom, Joe Raynor Jr., the bride's cousin, and Greg, Klaus, a cousin of the groom.

The former Miss Raynor selected a ivory Cluny lace gown made with a high pleated neckline, banded with tiny Venice lace motifs. The design was repeated on the bodice to form a V shaped yoke.

A pleated ruffle, edged with lace, created the cuffs of the long, puffed renaissance-style sleeves, and the gown was encircled at the waist with satin ribbon massed with Venice lace, terminating in a bow and long streamers at the back.

Deep ruffling bordered the hemline of the long skirt that ended in a full sweep train. She wore a headpiece of Cluny lace edged with pearls to hold in place a fingertip veil of bridal illusion.

A teardrop bouquet of white carnations centered with lavender orchid corsage was carried by the bride.

The attendants wore identical dresses fashioned of lavender polyester crepe, with deep purple velvet boleros closed in the front with tiny covered buttons and trimmed with ivory lace.

The fitted bodices featured high necklines and long puffed sleeves and a wide ruffle edged the hemline of the floor-length skirts.

Each held a bouquet of white carnations tinted lavender.

The little flower girl was dressed in a purple velvet frock designed in similar style as the adult attendants' gowns. She carried a white basket filled with lavender pom poms.

Mrs. Raynor was attired in a floor-length pink polyester gown made with an accordion pleated skirt and complemented with silver accessories. The groom's mother chose a long turquoise dress of polyester knit, designed with a slightly gathered skirt and fitted waist.

Both carnations and red roses. Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner given at Charlie's Restaurant.

The couple will reside at the
